mischievous and in preaching slugs. Dr. Thomas' address to the Council of Fifteen, showed the true spirit of the man, and the argument of Dr. Hatfield was a very correct photograph of the man who made the argument. There is a much difference between the two as there is between the sermon on the Mount and a modern stump speech—the difference being in favor of Dr. Thomas' address. It is an honor to the Methodist church that it is not responsible for the slang and vulgarity of Drs. Hatfield and Parkhurst, neither can it be held wholly responsible for the wrong perpetrated against so good a man as Dr. W. H. Thomas.

The temperance people of Wisconsin—or that portion of them who propose to support the Prohibition ticket—will do well to bear in mind the following facts as given by the Milwaukee Republican and News: "At least nine-tenths of the temperance men in Wisconsin very well understand that the Republican party could not, if it desired to do so, submit to the people a proposition to amend the constitution by abolishing the manufacture and sale of liquor. The proposition to submit would have to pass two Legislatures. The Republican Legislature of last winter might have passed the proposition, but if it had done so it would have given the State a Democratic Legislature for the coming winter; and there is not a dot in the State so much of a dot that the proposition would stand no show of passing a Democratic Legislature. It is also safe to say that nine-tenths of the temperance men in the State are satisfied that the submission of such a proposition would not only be overwhelmingly defeated, but that the discussion which would come from it would seriously obstruct the growth of temperance sentiment." We believe the more discreet portion of the temperance workers will take this view of the question and will not withdraw their support from the Republican party, and throw it where it can possibly do no good. In times like this, discretion is not only the better part of valor, but it is the best temperance movement.

After what took place in the Senate last Monday, the President would be justified in making it absolutely certain that the nominee is not a Democrat.

The Madison Democrat hasn't much to do this campaign except to poke fun at the poor Democrats and Greenbackers. In speaking about the campaign which the Republicans will open next week, and what will follow, the Democrat says: "The Democrats and Greenbackers are too poor to conduct such elaborate campaigns, and neither will have any speaking. The Democrats have about $400 of a campaign fund, but it will be necessary to use it all to print tickets for such enlightened regions as Rock and Walworth counties. The Greenbackers have only twenty-five cents, and they will invest in one of those red rubber balloons, such as some fellows sell at the fairs and circuses, and the whole party will go up in it on election day."

It is absolutely certain that the Republican State ticket will be elected this fall. Although there are four tickets before the people, and the Republicans are against the field, there is not strength enough in the opposition to defeat the Republican party. But the Republicans should not become indifferent because the Democratic party is poor and on the wane, and the other factions weak and begging for help. This is a time when every Republican should be up and doing and fully alive to the importance of drawing out the fullest strength of the party. The time when confidence is uppermost is the time when the Republicans should be the most earnest and enthusiastic and do the most work. A fall vote will give the Republicans a victory as overwhelming and deserved as that of two years ago.

A dispatch from Manitowish to the Milwaukee Republican and News in regard to the political feeling in that part of the State, shows this to be the condition of things in a strong Democratic county: "There are several strong temperance societies in the county, but investigation goes to show that not to exceed a dozen of the members will join the faction. Quite a number of Democrats who are in the societies have become disgusted with their party leaders in their hypocritical efforts to build up the temperance party and have come out for the Republican ticket. The ex-soldiers, almost to a man—Democrats and Republicans—are enthusiastic in their support of General Rusk and Captain Timme, their worthy and honored comrades. The ex-soldiers who are Republicans are at work for the ticket as they have worked for no State ticket since Fairchild, Tom Allen and Colonel Gill were candidates."

Well, Dr. Thomas has been expelled from the ministry of the Methodist Church. The men who fought him are men who, in brains, culture, piety, kindly disposition and Christ-like spirit, are far beneath him. They became jealous over his success and chagrined at his popularity, and began to persecute him. While Dr. Thomas was preaching a higher standard of character, holding up before the world the spirit of Christ, and the grandeur of the religion he taught on earth, Dr. Hatfield and Dr. Parkhurst were engaged in slandering him, in inventing lies for

OHIO.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 12.—Chairman Nash says that Foster's majority will be not less than fifteen thousand. The House is Republican, and the Senate in doubt.

IOWA.

DES MOINES, Oct. 12.—The returns indicate that the State has been carried by the Republicans by forty thousand over the Democrats, and twenty-five thousand over all. The Republicans have a majority in the Legislature of nearly one hundred, on joint ballot.

SUDDEN SUMMONS.

Death of the Well-Known Author and Editor, Dr. J. G. Holland.

New York, October 12.—Dr. J. G. Holland, editor of Scribner's, died in bed at 6 o'clock this morning, of heart disease. He spent yesterday at the publication office, preparing "Topics of the Times" for the December number. He awoke about 5 o'clock this morning and spoke to his wife about rising. He began breathing heavily and died before assistance could be had. He was aged 62, and leaves, besides his wife, two young daughters, and one son, at Yale college. He has been suffering from heart disease for six years.

NAMED FOR HONORS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The following nominations were sent in to the Senate to-day: William W. Dudley, of Indiana, Commissioner of Pensions; C. H. Howard, Chicago, Indian Inspector. A number of minor nominations were also presented, nearly all of which were made by the late President Garfield.

YORKTOWN.

A Great Multitude of Sight-Seeers Bent on Congregating There.

YORKTOWN, Va., October 11.—This old place is now possessed of more life than it has known since the time Cornwallis surrendered, and already it is crowded beyond its capacity. All indications point to the fact that the great crowd which will be here will have as hard a time as Cornwallis did, and, like that historic party, will be willing to surrender and move off to more desirable quarters. Yorktown abounds in reminders of the Revolutionary era, and the people still live in that primitive simplicity which characterized the citizens of this place when Yorktown was the principal port of the Union. The quaint ox-cart, which, with its dark driver, is known in this region as the peninsula buggy, is seen everywhere, and the owner, who regards this minatory celebration as the time to make his fortune, is not willing to forego it for less than $10 a day. Everybody here is "on the make," and Niagara prices are paid in comparison to the rates charged here. What is to be done with the great crowd expected to be here? No place in the State could impress the visitor more favorably than this. It is a fact that he will go over a historic ground, and here, and the most patriotic and earnest of raptures when he is pointed out on the York river road the very house in which General George Washington first met the dowry who became his wife, while in Yorktown. Not only is the first man and his son shown, but the famous molar of Dr. fish pickets who were picked off by stray pickets from the Continental army are exhibited with as much equanimity as if they were an Italian city and these the bones of some of the saints. British bones, however, command higher prices than good Italian skulls. Not only do the inhabitants of this region expect to make competence out of the strangers who visit, but many have come from every part of the Union with the same idea. Booths and tents of every description are being put up all over the grounds, and all with the sole aim of getting in the almighty dollar. The place is in reality becoming a temporary city, two-thirds of the buildings in which are bar-rooms. Each speculator seems to have associated whiskey with American patriotism and money, and, in consequence, stables, parlors, kitchens, and even chicken coops have been rigged up and the sign of "fine liquors" flung to the breeze.

OHIO.

The Menzies Returns Indicate a Republican Majority from 10,000 to 17,000.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Oct. 11.—Cincinnati has never seen so quiet an evening following a State election. There is positively no enthusiasm and little anxiety expressed as to the result. The streets are unusually quiet, and about the newspaper offices, where crowds usually assemble on the evenings following elections, there is scarcely a man to be seen. The vote has been very light and the great American scramble has been more than usually active. More scratching has been indulged in on the Republican side than on the Democratic. This fact, coupled with that of the light vote, made the Republicans rather blue early in the evening. Unofficial reports in from a few wards indicate a heavy falling off in the Republican vote. Indications are that the Democrats have carried a portion of the Legislature ticket in this county, and that Foster's majority will be small. Reports from the State show an average Democratic gain of six votes in the fifty precincts heard from. This will cut Foster's majority down to about 10,000. The length of the ticket and unparalleled amount of scratching make the returns come very slowly, and if the vote is at all close the result will not be known tonight.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 11.—Later reports from throughout the State confirm the Republicans in their hopes, and the little knot of people at the Lyceum club are happy. Yet there are some fears that this county has gone Democratic, at least so far as the Legislature is concerned. It seems probable, however, that the Republicans will control the Legislature, and thus prevent re-districting by the Democrats. Nothing definite can, however, be learned yet, as the vote is processing slowly. Mayor Means, and Johnson, the Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, have advices from Columbus that Foster's majority will be 17,000.

It is a foolish mistake to confound a remedy of merit with the quick medicines now so common. We have used Parker's Ginger Tonic with the happiest results for Rheumatism and dyspepsia, and when worn out by overwork, and know it to be a sterling health restorative.—Times. See adv.

IOWA.

Iowa Goes for 50,000 Republican Majority.

DES MOINES, Oct. 11.—Returns come in slowly owing to the prevalence of a storm. The State Register has partial returns from nineteen counties, which show a falling off of 25 per cent in the total vote, three political parties sustaining about equal relative loss. These returns are mainly from scattering townships. Only two counties are reported with any general returns. One of them (Webster) is reported as electing Wright (Republican) to the Legislature, the first Republican since 1869. Jasper reports the whole Republican ticket elected. The Legislature two years ago stood 81 Republicans to 19 Democrats in the House, and 41 Republicans to 9 Democrats in the Senate. The indications are that the Republicans will lose three or four members of the House this year and hold their own in the Senate, with the probability of gaining one or two. This would give the Republicans some ninety majority in the Legislature. The Republican State committee estimate at this hour that the Republican State majority over the Democrats will be 50,000, and over all parties 83,000.

DES MOINES, Iowa, October 12, 11 a. m.—Up to this hour the Republican State committee and the State Register have reports from portions of thirty-eight counties, some of the counties nearly in full.

These returns give Sherman, Republican, for Governor, 5,799 majority over Kinn, Democrat. The same counties gave Garfield 8,791 majority. The same relative vote over the State will give Sherman a majority of between 50,000 and 55,000 over the Democrats.

The reports indicate a majority of 90 in the Legislature. The Senate will be more strongly Republican than in 1879.

THE YORKTOWN VISITORS.

BALTIMORE, Md., October 11.—The French visitors are the guests of the city to-day, and are being entertained according to the programme.

New York, October 11.—The chairman of the committee on arrangements for the reception of German delegates to the Yorktown celebration called upon the police commissioners to-day and invited them to be present at the review which will take place on Thursday evening in Union Square. It is expected that there will be at least 15,000 people in line, composed of the united German societies of the city, and military organizations. The singing societies will form in front of the grand stand, and soon after the guests after the procession has passed.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Three revenue vessels have been ordered to participate in the Yorktown celebration.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 11.—The Washington Light Infantry will carry to Yorktown a Colonel William Washington's battle-flag, used in the cavalry charges at battles of Cowpens and Eutaw Springs.

WISCONSIN FREEMASONS.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., October 11.—The consistory of Freemasons of Wisconsin met here to-night for a four days' session, during which the Scottish rite will be administered to 160 applicants.

NOMINATIONS.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—President Arthur will send in to-morrow over 200 nominations, mainly those whose appointments had been made by General Garfield. At present Mr. Arthur intends to confine his nominations to this class, and to the filling of vacancies. He intimates to friends to-day that he probably should not have his cabinet ready to announce this week. Gentlemen who are very near him say they have no knowledge that there have been any selections absolutely determined upon. He had not intended to make the nomination of the supreme court judge this session, but, owing to the sickness of Justice Hunt and the absence of Justice Field, he will probably name a successor to Justice Clifford, and expects to take a new man from New England. The President expects to leave for Yorktown on Monday, to be gone three days. He will give the Senate very little work, and he thinks they can readily finish by the last of next week.

SAFE-BLOWING.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 11.—Last night three burglars entered the country store of L. Rosenbloom at Kewaskum, a small village about thirty miles northwest of here on the Fond du Lac Air-line road, and blew open the safe, using so large a charge of powder that the brick wall of the building was partly blown out without wakening the occupants of the building, who lived over the store. The burglars managed to secure $3,000 worth of savings, $2,000 in cash, $1,000 of jewelry, and the remainder in bonds and notes. They then went to a brick house in the neighborhood, and taking a team of horses and a wagon belonging to the proprietor, managed to make good their escape.

Fetters Literature for Boys.

The baneful effect of the pink and yellow-backed literature on the susceptible mind of boys is made strikingly apparent in this city from day to day. The number of lads who run away from home to be free from all paternal restraint and seek such adventures as their fancy may suggest, is by no means on the decrease. The Board has been made an objective point for numbers of these young runaways from all sections of the country. Almost daily during the summer the police have been in receipt of telegrams and letters of inquiry from anxious parents and the authorities in other cities concerning boys who have disappeared from home. In quite a number of instances the lads have been found here and returned to their parents. The most recent has almost invariably been effected through descriptions of the boys furnished by their friends. Such reports do the boys become in evading the truth when questioned by the authorities that it is necessary to have further evidence of their identity than the statements which proceed from their youthful lips. A case occurred one day last week that is not without many parallels during the spring and summer months. A named Mohr, residing in Oil City, apprised the police of his son, aged thirteen, having run away from home. The father thought it probable that the lad had made his way to this city. A description of the boy was furnished, and the officers soon found the lad in company with a squad of other boys in the lower part of the city. The youth at first assumed to be surprised, and claimed that he could not be the boy in question. The police have long since learned to deal with such cases, and the little fellow soon conceded that he was the runaway. He had been wandering about for some time, and finally reached this city by stealing rides from station to station on passing trains. He had in his possession a small sum of money—about thirty cents. This was ample, however, for the lad stated, as he had no difficulty in procuring food without money and without price. Some of the boys about the city of his own age purchased articles of food at home and kept him well supplied. In return for this young Mohr permitted the youthful commissariat to peruse a pink-backed book on which high treasure was placed. The title of the book was the "Slang Dictionary of New York, London and Paris." It contained a list of the technical jargon of tramps and thieves "used in the leading cities of the world," with their meaning and application. Also a secret system of enumeration and written communication, with portraits of celebrated criminals and sketches of their lives. There were in the book numerous illustrations of garrotting, "cracking a crib" and cuts showing how other criminals acted and performed. A more pernicious book to place in the hands of a boy ranging in age from ten to sixteen years cannot be conceived. After acquiring the arts and language of this work, some of the boys had in contemplation the foundation of a band of venturesome spirits to go forth and lead a vagabond life, and depend on criminal cunning and new recruits in other cities where they might sojourn for subsistence. It was not until a fortunate thing for some Bradford parents that the youth owning the book and having views on the organization of a school of young thieves, was apprehended and sent safely home to his parents. It would be well, indeed, for the parent of the boy to adopt measures to keep him at home and guard against his procuring literature such as was found in his possession. There are a number of runaway boys who reach Bradford after whom no inquiry is made or anxious parents seek, at least so far as known. Some of these boys remain here for weeks and months. They readily fall in with the newsboys and bootblacks, and manage to gain money enough to buy food. They practice the "lifting art" in trifles merely to gain experience and skill. There is a larger growth of evil from the green backs to the hands of the boys who are blacked to quiet the suspicion and carry on their questionable mode of life. The younger boys find them capital preceptors. They have all the characteristics of "hoodlums," and cunning sufficient to escape detection in many of their petty criminal acts. Some of these persons by times fall into the hands of the officers and get their deserts. While the number of boys who run away from home and are immediately caught after by their parents, is quite large, those after whom no care seems to be taken, or a least no inquiry is made, is, indeed, much greater. In this working-day world there seems to be many parents indifferent to the welfare of their sons. The tendency of these boys is directly to the bad. Sufficient has been shown in this city, from time to time, to make it plain that these boys, or at least nine-tenths of them, lead a life of crime, tramps and thieves. The police can do little to remedy the evil, because the boys deem themselves to escape arrest and avoid detection. Even should it be known that they are runaways, their parents failing to make demand for them, and their homes being unknown, nothing can be done to restore them.—Bradford (Pa.) Era.

A good story reaches us from Belgium, the truth of which is guaranteed. A banking house at Vorriers recently received a letter from a bank at Budapest. The recipients knew that it related to a matter of the greatest importance; but, unfortunately, they could not master the contents of the missive, as it was written in the Hungarian language, and they were not acquainted with the language. The letter was, however, understood at that tongue. Accordingly, one of the partners took a journey to Brussels, expecting to find everything he wanted at the Capital, but only to be disappointed—nobody at the banks could read Hungarian. There was, however, still the Austro-Hungarian Embassy, whether the banker betook himself, to learn that there was an attaché who spoke Hungarian, but he had gone to Biarritz for some bathing. Alas! in despair, the hero of the story called upon the Burgomaster, with whom he was acquainted, and related his troubles. After some thought his worship, striking his forehead, exclaimed: "After all, sometimes our most foolish ideas prove the best." With this enigmatical observation he asked for the letter. The next day he returned the original to the gentleman from Vorriers, with a translation in French, in a most feminine hand. "To what Hungarian fairy do I owe this good fortune?" asked the delighted banker. "This is an affair involving some millions, and I shall be happy to pay a handsome douleur to the translator who has enabled me to get at the meaning of the letter in time to conclude the affair." "I take you at your word," replied the Burgomaster. "Give me 10,000 francs for the post of Brussels, for the translator is none other than the Queen. She has experienced lively satisfaction in employing her knowledge of the Hungarian language to oblige one of her subjects." The Queen of the Belgians is a daughter of the Archduke Joseph, whose beneficent rule of Hungary is still remembered by the people, and she was born in the capital city during her father's palatinate.—Manchester (Eng.) Examiner.

"To what Hungarian fairy do I owe this good fortune?" asked the delighted banker. "This is an affair involving some millions, and I shall be happy to pay a handsome douleur to the translator who has enabled me to get at the meaning of the letter in time to conclude the affair." "I take you at your word," replied the Burgomaster. "Give me 10,000 francs for the post of Brussels, for the translator is none other than the Queen. She has experienced lively satisfaction in employing her knowledge of the Hungarian language to oblige one of her subjects." The Queen of the Belgians is a daughter of the Archduke Joseph, whose beneficent rule of Hungary is still remembered by the people, and she was born in the capital city during her father's palatinate.—Manchester (Eng.) Examiner.

How to Secure Health

It seems strange that any one should suffer from the many derangements brought on by an impure condition of the blood, when SCOVILL'S SASSAPARILLA AND STILLINGIA, or BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP, will restore perfect health to the physical organization. It is indeed a strengthening syrup, pleasant to take, and has proven itself to be the BEST BLOOD PURIFIER ever discovered, effectually curing Scrophulous, Syphilitic disorders, Weakness of the Kidneys, Erysipelas, Malaria, All Nervous Disorders and Debility, Bilious complaints and all Diseases indicating an Impure Condition of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, Stomach, Skin, etc. It corrects Indigestion. A single bottle will prove to you its merits as a health restorer, for it ACTS LIKE A CHARM, especially when the complaint is of an exhaustive nature, having a tendency to lessen the natural vigor of the brain and nervous system.

Two robbers tackled Judge Twigg, of Glasgow, the other day, and found out what sort of a fellow he was. He knocked both down inside of ten seconds, and one of them carried away a broken jaw.

Translated by the Queen.

A good story reaches us from Belgium, the truth of which is guaranteed. A banking house at Vorriers recently received a letter from a bank at Budapest. The recipients knew that it related to a matter of the greatest importance; but, unfortunately, they could not master the contents of the missive, as it was written in the Hungarian language, and they were not acquainted with the language. The letter was, however, understood at that tongue. Accordingly, one of the partners took a journey to Brussels, expecting to find everything he wanted at the Capital, but only to be disappointed—nobody at the banks could read Hungarian. There was, however, still the Austro-Hungarian Embassy, whether the banker betook himself, to learn that there was an attaché who spoke Hungarian, but he had gone to Biarritz for some bathing. Alas! in despair, the hero of the story called upon the Burgomaster, with whom he was acquainted, and related his troubles. After some thought his worship, striking his forehead, exclaimed: "After all, sometimes our most foolish ideas prove the best." With this enigmatical observation he asked for the letter. The next day he returned the original to the gentleman from Vorriers, with a translation in French, in a most feminine hand. "To what Hungarian fairy do I owe this good fortune?" asked the delighted banker. "This is an affair involving some millions, and I shall be happy to pay a handsome douleur to the translator who has enabled me to get at the meaning of the letter in time to conclude the affair."
